The class is to give Oral report in their Christmas fan. Piper gets up and talks about Alcatraz, placing moose in a position where he feels he should talk about it as well, but afraid of the director's warnings. After the English class, Piper tells Moose She wants to sell laundry service by al Capone to students and she wants help from him. The alce refuses to help. Chapter 8. After school, Moose joins a baseball game with a boy from his English class, Scout. The game is going well, with furniture making a triple move. Chapter 9. Moose comes home to learn that your mother is doing your hair for a party that night at the officers club. Moose goes out to the parade land to play ball and discover the children's child who can throw a ball a girl, Annie. Annie and Jimmy, Theresa's sister, say the moose how prisoners throw the ball from the gates of the prison and occasionally a ball turns on the wall. Everyone has a and moose imagine that it would be nice to have one. So they are united by Piper, who once again pushes moose to join his laundry scheme. Chapter 10. When Moose returns to his apartment, Mrs. Caconi tells you that a call. Moose gets the call as long as her mother is still out and her father is sleeping. The call is the Esther P. Marinoff School. Mr. Purdy, the director wants the parents of the moose to seek Natalie as soon as possible. Moose reluctantly tells her father to her unmarried. Chapter 11. Moose goes with your mother and to get Natalie. On the way, Moose resembles all the other attempts her mother and made to help Natalie, including a special diet, another school and a study at UCLA. Moose thinks that the study of the UCLA that made her mother and insist that Natalie is still ten, although she is now fifteen. At school, the mother's motion tries to convince Mr. Purdy keeping Natalie, but he insists that she is not ready. Moose does, however, talk about the prison when pushed in front of other students at school. Moose then sits back and watches as Piper takes nickel after nickel from their fellow students, along with various pieces of their clothing.Chapter 13. The next morning, Moose catches Piper putting some of the students' laundry in his family's laundry bag. Back in the apartment, Moose learns that Natalie's new therapist, Carrie Kelly, wants Natalie to stop playing with her button box and that she thinks Natalie should spend more time with Moose, acting like a normal girl. Moose hates this idea, especially when he learns his mother is giving piano lessons again so he will have to give up Monday afternoon baseball. Moose's mother tells him to ask Scout to change the game to Tuesdays.Chapter 14. Despite being mad at his mother, Moose asks Scout to change the day of the baseball game. Scout does not think it is possible. Scout then asks Moose about the balls that the convicts hit Chapter 15. When Moose gets home, it is hot, so he puts on his swim trunks. Natalie puts on her bathing suit, but Moose cannot let her go out that way because of the rules laid out by the warden. Natalie refuses to change and for a time walks around in the nude. Moose finally gets Natalie dressed and takes her out as promised. They run into Piper and Annie, who are sneaking behind one of the fences to get a closer look at the inmates as they are taken back to the prison after the work day. Moose finds it boring after a short time and Natalie does not seem to notice the men at all.Chapter 16. Moose reluctantly helps Piper carry the laundry into their school. Immediately, the students who paid to have their clothes laundered at Alcatraz express disappointment in the fact that the clothing has simply come back clean.Chapter 17. After Scout agrees to change the ballgame to Moose discovers that her mother has had a student change days for the time. Chapter 18. Moose tries to tell scout that he can not play ball in the time, but they are interrupted by Piper. Moose finally tells him after school, making Scout get angry. Chapter 19. Theresa comes to get Moose and Natalie when she finds that Piper is sharing the laundry money. Natalie helps find out how much each person should have. One of the guards comes and tells them that they are all sought by the director. It turns out that one of the students' mothers wrote to the director complaining about the laundry scheme. The director threatens each child involved, including Moose, although he was not really involved, with the demise of his father of his jobs. Chapter 20. In the aftermath of his director's lecture, children are playing in the dock. Moose accidentally hits Natalie's button, causing her to freeze. The mother's mother comes and sends the other children although, clearly embarrassed by Natalie's frozen stature. Back to the apartment, the lectures of Moose Moose's father about not telling him about Piper's laundry scheme. Moose's father takes the baseball and the gloves of the moose, warning him to make more mistakes. Chapter 21. Almost two months passed. Moose was established in Alcatraz, despite its disease at home. One afternoon, Piper tells everyone that Al Capone's mother comes to Alcatraz and she wants everyone to be with her on the boat the day she comes. Annie, Piper, Jimmy and Moose board the boat together on the morning of Mrs. Capone. After the boat begins his journey, they find that Theresa has paraded on board with her newest sister Rocky, but Rocky is not happy. After Mrs. Capone embarks on the boat, she ignores Piper's attempts to talk to her, but she takes Rocky's control and sings him to sleep. Finally, Moose is able to tell her parents a little bit of what happened, but her mother refuses to alter Natalie's routine. Esther P. Marinoff School's interview is 4 weeks away. Scout then stop spending so much time with Piper. Piper tries to convince Moose taking Natalie to see 105 again, so they can convince him to make Al Capone sign a ball. Moose refuses. Natalie has an attack that brings adults from the apartments on the downstairs floor. Moose manages to calm her by wrapping her on a carpet. Chapter 31. Moose takes Natalie outside to play. Natalie quickly falls asleep by the exhaustion of her bira. While Moose takes her home, he runs to his father. Moose's father shares a beer with him. Moose asks if her birth somehow caused Natalie's problems and her father guarantees that he had nothing to do with it. Chapter 32. Moose hears her parents discussing her mother's obsession with Natalie with the exclusion of alces. Moose whispers to Nat while she is sleeping, saying she needs to enter Esther P. Marinoff because her mother can't handle it if she doesn't come in. , Moose is instructed to keep it especially calm. That day is Natalie's birthday. too. Piper comes and tells Natalie something that makes her want to see convict 105. Moose reluctantly allows her to go and is impressed by how normal the meeting looks. Chapter 34. Moose's mother invites Piper to stay for Natalie's birthday party. Moose's father plays him with all the girls in his life.
